

359 GET SOCIAL SECURITY PAY AT END OF 1956

More than 359 beneficiaries in Morgan county were getting monthly social security payments totaling $13,364 at the end of 1956. The number of beneficiaries increased by 89 over 1955 and the total of monthly benefits being paid in the County at the close of the year was $3428 over the total being paid a year ago. Robert A. Flynn, district manager of the social security office in Ashland announced today. These increases, he noted, result in part from the protection provided to farm families by the coverage of farm employment and self-employment under social security.

He pointed out that self-employed farmers who brought under social security in January 1955, those over retirement age at that time, or who reached retirement age before the end of 1956, became insured if they reported self-employment income of at least $400 for 1955, and again for 1956. These insured persons were able to qualify for old-age benefit payments during the latter year. Mr. Flynn said that about 108 self-employed farmers and their dependents filed claims for benefits in Morgan County in 1956. The number of farm claims filed in 1957 will be much greater he said. For example, during the 6 months, January-June 1957, 229 claims for benefits had been filed.

Noting the impact of farm coverage in general on essentially agricultural areas like Morgan County, Mr. Flynn said that a farm employee, for instance, who was already at retirement age by mid-1956 became insured as of April 1 of that year and received a taxable wage of $400 or more in 1955 and of at least $400 in 1956. Benefits paid to farmers and their dependents, moreover, figured in the nationwide totals for 1956. At the close of the year, over 9 million people were receiving almost one-half billion dollars in monthly benefit payments.

In Morgan County for the month of December 1956, 164 retired workers were being paid a total of $1065 monthly in the same county for December. A total of 1959 was being paid to aged widows or dependent aged widowers and parents of deceased workers. The lowering of the age at which a woman without an entitled child in her care can start getting benefits is reflected in these figures, he pointed out. Effective with November 1956 benefits could be paid to women starting at age 62.

Monthly payments of $2700 were being made to 99 widowed mothers with children under 18 in their care and minor children of retired or deceased workers. Nine out of ten mothers and children in the United States now have social security protection. At the end of the year nationwide, about 1,341,000 children under 18 were receiving monthly social security insurance payments. Of these, 131,000 were being paid monthly benefits because of the retirement of an aged insured parent. Children who become totally disabled before age 18 may not be eligible for disabled child's benefit payments after age 18. This of social security insurance benefit, however, did not become payable until January 1957 and such benefits and beneficiaries are not included in the figures quoted above.

Commenting on the steady growth of the social security insurance program, Mr. Flynn said that three-fourths of all men becoming 65 this year will be eligible for social security benefit payments.

MORGAN MAN MAKES CANE STRIPPING MACHINE

Venus Burton of Stacey Fork is getting ready to make sorghum on his farm. He has three acres of cane. Stripping that much cane ordinarily is a long tedious task. But Mr. Burton built a tripper out of wood which two men operate. He says two men can strip enough cane in one hour to supply a mill all day.

The tripper is a simple machine. He makes it by placing a heavy board four or five inches wide and 7 or 8 feet long in the crotch of four stake and rider legs, and nails several sharp cleats on top of the board. Top of the stalks and riders provide arms that holds the stalks placed in by

Barbecue Will Feature Homecoming Aug. 24

Something new has been added to this year's school homecoming. A "Gigantic Barbecue" And the Chieftans. Why? They're the best in town. And they promise that everyone who attends the homecoming barbecue can eat to his heart's and stomach's content.

The barbecue was planned this week when it was learned that one of the clubs wanted the job of cooking and serving food to approximately 200 people. This was planned what is expected to be the most pleasant evening at a homecoming yet.

The barbecue will get underway between 6:00 and 6:30 p.m. Saturday evening, August 24, at the high school athletic field. Giant charcoal grills are being constructed right on the field, and you can smell the tantalizing aroma of a charcoal fire while you eat and then go back for seconds.

There will be programs immediately following the barbecue at both the old gym and high school gym.

Harold Barber is chairman of the barbecue, and his aides-de-camp will be Paul Williams, Clay Walton, Ralph Gullett, Robert L. Blair, Parker May and Ed Geve-

Veterinarian Warns State Cattle Buyers To Ask If Animals Bang's Tested

Acting State Veterinarian Dr. Robert H. Singer warned farmers today that they may be risking financial loss by not requiring that all cattle bought or sold at stockyards and public sales for return to the farm be tested for brucellosis prior to sale.

Dr. Singer stated that reports had reached his office in Frankfort that some stockyards were not blood testing cattle before they went into the sales ring. Often the purchaser would buy a cow or bull only to find that it was brucellosis infected. In such cases, the animal must be sent to immediate slaughter, and often at prices considerably lower than the purchaser had paid for the animal an hour or so earlier.

The State Veterinarian pointed out that pre-sale testing was also advantageous to the seller because the prospective purchaser could buy with the confidence that the animal in question was a healthy one. He added that some yards operators had reported to him that the selling price of a pre-tested animal ran $15-$25 higher than for one that had not been tested.

This regulation requiring testing of cattle being returned to the farm has been in effect since July 1, 1957.

During the first month, 4,275 cattle were blood tested to be returned to the farm. Of this number, 7.4 per cent either were branded as reactors or were designated "suspect". Neither reactors nor suspects may be returned to the farm and must be sold for slaughter immediately. A total of 3,391 cattle passed the blood test and an additional 366 calves four to eight months of age were vaccinated against brucellosis. 318 cattle were condemned.

LAMB CROP 3 PERCENT SMALLER

The 1957 lamb crop totaled 19,800,000 head, 3 percent less than the 20,398,000 head raised in 1956 according to the Crop Reporting Board. This year's lamb crop is the smallest since 1953 and is about equal to the liquidation of breeding flocks the 5 percent smaller lamb crop in the 13 Western States (11 Western States plus South Dakota and Texas). The lamb crop in the 35 Native Sheep States is 1 percent larger than last year and 11 percent above average. In Texas, the leading sheep State, the 1957 lamb crop at 2,311,000 head is 14 percent less than 1956 and 24 percent below average.

Dr. Spencer Named To Action Group To Sift Mountain Area's Needs

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 13—Acting Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield today announced the names of nine "men of action" who will serve on a commission concerned solely with Eastern Kentucky's economic future.

He said the leaders of 32 counties had been screened in an effort to get a commission that "will really do something" for the mountain area.

Named to the commission were R. R. Worden of Pikeville, a natural gas executive; Lawrence Davis of Hazard, a real estate developer; B. F. Reed of Drift, a coal operator; Rexford Blazer of Ashland, an oil executive; Harry LaViers of Paintsville, a coal operator; S. C. Van Curen of Harlan, a newspaper executive; Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State College; The Rev. William M. Huie of Corbin, and Dr. Alec Spencer of West Liberty, a physician.

The group will be known as the Mountain Planning Commission. It will work closely with the State Department of Economic Development in an all-out effort to solve Eastern Kentucky's ills.

"If the plan works in Eastern Kentucky, we will try it in other parts of the state," Waterfield said. "What we would like to see is an industry in every county seat."

Economic Development Commissioner George Hubley, Jr., pointed out the commission is the first of its type in Kentucky although laws providing for regional planners have existed since Gov. A. B. Chandler's first term 20 years ago.

The commission will be the executive arm of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Eastern Kentucky, which has 200 members from the 32-county depressed area.

Both the committee and the commission are outgrowths of the recently completed Eastern Kentucky flood rehabilitation study. Action followed recommendations for a permanent organization to work out programs aimed at long-term relief and economic improvement.

Disastrous floods in January accentuated the need.

Commission members will serve without pay, but Waterfield said it was hoped they could be provided with a paid technical staff through an appropriation in the 1958 Legislature.

Waterfield said possible initial projects of the commission might include:

1. Assistance to communities in obtaining federal help for urban renewal, cost housing and the construction of public facilities.
2. A survey of potential industrial sites and recommendations for improvements necessary to convert them into desirable plant locations.
3. A study of the area's tourism potential.
4. Liaison with the U.S. Weather Bureau to provide a radar flood warning system at the earliest possible time.
5. A study of new state legislation which might be needed to permit countywide and inter-county planning.

100 Percent Homemakers Visit Berea And See Wilderness Road

(By Eve May)

The award to Morgan County Homemakers this year for perfect attendance was a well-planned trip to Richmond and Berea by the Home Demonstration Agent Evelyn Sinclair. Forty-three ladies left Earl at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday. The special bus was filled and also Mrs. Sinclair's car. We arrived in Richmond on schedule and were greeted by President O'Donnell who took us on a tour of the campus. We were much impressed by the new music building. The seats and walls were in pastel shades and the practice rooms were soundproof. Each lady brought some lunch and we were given permission to unpack it and eat in the cafeteria. (Mr. O'Donnell sampled some of the food at Anna Fay Preston's table. None of Mrs. Major Gardner's banana bread was left.)

Just after lunch we hurried on toward Berea and glanced briefly at Boonesboro and the scenic view from the bridge over Kentucky river.

We were met by guides on our arrival at Berea and shown a movie of Berea College. Then we visited the more interesting parts of the campus that included the chapel for weddings, the broom factory, the bakery, the weaving room, and the gift shop. The beautiful materials, rugs, pottery, furniture, all made by students, are unusual. Our Homemakers bought baskets, tea sugars and other hand-made souvenirs.

At 5:30 p.m. we were served dinner in a reserved room at Boone Tavern Hotel and Mrs. Sinclair was joined by her husband, who presented her a book of recipes of all the foods that Boone Tavern is famous for. (She will be sharing them with us later.) The menu included haddock, chicken, giblet gravy, relish tray, rolls, spoon bread, cake, ice cream, salads, coffee, etc., etc.

Then we were given tickets to see "Wilderness Road" and were taken to Indian Fort Theater which is located on the slopes of old Indian Fort Mountain. The woods round about make lovely picnic grounds and the theater itself is a delightful place. The stones used in its construction were taken from fences laid by slaves in Civil War days. At 7:15 p.m. the strains of music from the Baldwin organ began the performance of "Wilderness Road" and there we saw, heard and enjoyed an outstanding drama that is characteristic of Kentucky hill country life before the Civil War—and at the same time the feeling of being in the out-of-doors with a bright moon overhead and 1500 people present.

We returned home safely after midnight and everyone was grateful for the privilege of having made the trip. Mrs. A. P. Gullett, Mrs. Claude Wells and Mrs. L. C. McGuire claimed to be the youngest ladies present and perhaps the least tired at the end of the day.

The finale is—Where do we go next year?

At 5:30 p.m. we were served

LITTLE SANDY PROJECT GETS U.S. PLANNING

An appropriation of $30,000 for planning and engineering surveys for the Little Sandy and Tygart Creek little watershed project was included in a 40 million dollar appropriation bill passed by the Senate last week for the navigation and flood control.

The bill must return to the House before it goes to the White House because the Senate added one more money than was initiated by the House.

The additional money voted by the Senate included $98,000 for three Kentucky projects.

These three projects, on which the House still has to act, include the new Richmond lock and dam on the Ohio River in Campbell County. It calls for $828,000 to begin construction.

The House already had approved $175,000 for planning work at the project.

Another added project calls for $140,000 to be sent for planning work on the Pound River Reservoir in Dickenson County, Va.

The Pound drains through the Lewis Fork of the Big Sandy affecting Pike, Floyd, Johnson and Lawrence Counties in Kentucky.

A third new project calls for $15,000 for a reservoir of the upper Cumberland River.

Other Kentucky construction projects provided in the bill are: Markland locks and dams at Louisville, $9,500,000.

Greenup locks and dams, $13,500,000.

Calletsburg floodwalls, $2,000,000.

Lock and Dam 41 at Louisville, $4,000,000.

Barkley Dam on the Lower Cumberland, $5,000,000.

Rough River Reservoir, $3,000,000.

Buckhorn Reservoir on the Kentucky River, $1,900,000.

For planning and engineering surveys, the following were approved:

Little Sandy River and Tygart Creek, $30,000.

Kentucky River, $54,500.

Laurel River, $19,800.

Cypress Creek in Melenberg and McLean counties, $5,000.

Clark River in Western Kentucky, $16,100.

Nolin Reservoir, $138,000.

No. 2 Barren River Reservoir, $50,000.

Morehead Delegation Reports Ag Officials Gave Cold Shoulder

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—A spokesman for six Morehead, Ky., businessmen said today they got the cold shoulder from the Agriculture Department in a matter concerning tobacco graders.

The spokesman said the group went to Washington to see if they could get the department to assign tobacco graders to an auction warehouse under construction in Morehead.

The department has said previously its policy is not to do so until after warehouses have been in operation for one year.

Opponents of this policy claim buyers won't use a warehouse without graders.

Sens. Cooper and Morton (R-Ky.) attended today's meeting with Stephen E. Wrather, director of the Tobacco Division in the Agricultural Marketing Service.

William Whitaker, secretary-manager of the Rowan County Chamber of Commerce, said they got a cool reception from Wrather.

Whitaker said the Morehead warehouse, estimated to cost 125,000, is about half finished.

He said "the established tobacco warehousemen are trying to keep Morehead from getting graders, and the senators can't afford to get caught in the middle of this fight."

"We certainly do not feel encouraged after our visit."

Sisters Re-United After 45 Years

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 5.—In 1954 a story appeared here about two sisters who had not seen each other since December 12, 1912, at the old Louisville Baptist Orphan Home, 1022 S. First. One was 3, the other 5 when adopted by different families separated them.

The story said that more than 41 years later Mrs. Nathan Salyer, matron at the State Reformatory for Women in Pewee Valley, had located her younger sister, Mrs. H. J. Morse, who was living in Hollis, N. Y.

Bessie Salyer and Gracie Morse were planning to be reunited soon.

But Mrs. Salyer's husband became ill and an operation was necessary. The reunion was postponed.

Then Mrs. Letitia Catherine Johnson, mother of Bessie and Gracie, died in Pineville. Mrs. Johnson had placed the girls in the home. Gracie, who has two sons, was unable to come to the funeral.

There were the delays and the two sisters wondered—as they have wondered for many years—when they would meet again.

Saturday night, Mrs. Salyer, now 48, received a long-distance phone call from Bay Shore, N. Y., where Mrs. Morse, 46, now lives. She learned that her sister was coming to Louisville by plane.

Yesterday, Mrs. Salyer and her husband waited patiently at Standiford Field for the last delay to pass. Mrs. Morse's plane was an hour and 45 minutes late.

"After all these years, I've got butterflies in my stomach," said Mrs. Salyer.

The plane landed. Stairs were rolled out and a slender, blond woman descended.

Mrs. Salyer approached and said, almost questioning, "Honey, here I am."

The woman said: "My sister Bessie!"

They kissed and began talking at once. Because they have much to discuss, Mrs. Salyer is taking her vacation now. They'll spend part of it at Mrs. Salyer's home in Ezel; the rest visiting Louisville and Cincinnati.

"DOCTOR
KNOWS BEST..."

As American as pumpkin pie is the phrase, "Doctor knows best." We all remember this truism from childhood. Yet, in this enlightened day, some people, relatively few in number, attempt to diagnose and treat their own illnesses—a dangerous practice to say the least. Only your physician is qualified to diagnose and prescribe. When medication is required, our prescription department is equipped to serve your needs.

LOVE IS DIVINE

The following religious poem is by Bernard Illager of Lebanon, Ohio—

As we move from time to time
To see what lies in store
Let's not forget love is divine
Till we reach the evermore.
Men and deeds go hand in hand
To reach most every state.
Sin and sinners stalk the land
Who soon are doomed to fate.
No days are like the days of spring
When all the world is new.
We never know what fall will bring
While on our journey through.
The height of man is measured long.

By the service he may give,
Which proves a help when he is gone
And points the way to live.
Let's cast a jewel here and there
To those who follow on
That they too may freely share
The good when we are gone.

Miss Floris Cox of Middletown, Ohio, arrived last week to spend some time with friends and relatives here before beginning teaching in Ohio.

one of the operators. The other operator pulls the stalks out by the heads, always pulling stalks from the bottom of the pile. This strips the blades as the stalks are pulled out. And four or five stalks are pulled out each time.

Secret in operating the stripper is done by the man putting the stalks in the stripper. Heads of the cane must be placed even with each other and just the right amount of stalks must be kept in the machine to provide the right weight, because all stalks are pulled out from the bottom, heads first, and the weight of the pile helps do the job.

M.S.C. Chooses S. H. For Off-Campus Student Teaching Center

Pauline G. Adkins

The Morehead State Teachers College has selected Sandy Hook High School for its first Off-Campus Teaching Center, beginning for the fall term of college in September. Morehead is the last State College to start the Off-Campus Teaching Program.

There are many advantages for the student teacher in an off-campus teaching center. First, in an off-campus school, the regular work of the school will be a normal situation for the student teacher. She will be able to have more opportunities of the regular teacher than on a college campus.

Second, the pupils in a regular public school are usually heterogeneous, unselected.

Third, the variety of unplanned experiences to be found in the public school and the community offers an opportunity for student teachers to develop their ability of adaptation to new situations.

Fourth, the student teacher is giving her full-time to student teaching and has more time to learn about her students and visit in their homes.

Fifth, the student teacher lives in the community in which she teaches instead of a dormitory on the college campus.

Sandy Hook High School, students and parents should take pride in the fact that Sandy Hook College to begin this student teaching program. Each and every one of us should try to make the students really feel a part of our school, our town, and our community.

The first two student teachers will be Miss Sallie Cornett, Hamilton, and Mrs. Carolyn Davis, Sellers, Ky. They will be taking their student teaching in home economics under the supervision of Mrs. Pauline G. Adkins, Home Economics Teacher.

Student Teachers Visit

Both Miss Cornett and Mrs. Davis visited Sandy Hook High School and in the community July 31. Mrs. Cynthia Atkins brought them from Morehead where they were met by Mrs. Pauline Adkins. They were then taken to the restaurant for refreshments and to meet some of the young folks of the community.

After a tour of the main streets in town, they visited Bro. and Mrs. Davis King, where they will have while doing their student teaching. Mrs. Pauline Adkins returned them to Morehead.

Both student teachers reported that they like Sandy Hook and thought that they would feel at home here. They were glad to get "a small view" before coming the 16th of September.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Courier:

Pleased to read the recent letter of Mrs. Nash Nickell, our former neighbor in Morgan County, and that she had read Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," one of the greatest books of our language.

Like most great books it should be read more than once, although it was written 300 years ago when the Reverend Bunyan was serving twelve years in jail. And why?

He had preached the Bible as he saw it, instead of preaching it as the dictators of England said he must. That alone should help us appreciate our American government where the individual could think and act freely so long as he does not infringe on the legal rights of others.

But we often permit ignorant people to abuse or ruin our land. The real Christian owner realizes it's the foot-stool of God and that our fertile soil is the foundation of our prosperity. Thus the so-called owner manages that soil so that future generations will be able to live on it and not let the owner of the soil be carried into the streams to help cause overflows that destroy homes and lives and lay waste the countries as they have done in ages past.

Today most countries have their agricultural agents who help owners conserve the soil as well as to raise better crops, livestock. And the Courier has informed us of the farmers who cooperate with our federal government to reset steep hills with young timber which will help prevent erosion as well as to make the lands more valuable.

I am pleased to note that about one-fourth of the high school graduates of Morgan attended college last year. Some improvement over a few decades ago when she had no county high school. But look at Knott County; she led all counties in Kentucky.

Slightly more than one-half of her high school graduates were in college. And almost one-third of such students in Kentucky went to college. Something to be proud of? Yes. The "idle mind is the devil's workshop."

which of these brand new houses is TRULY MODERN?

These two houses look equally new and modern. But let's step inside and see the difference.

House No. 1 has an ordinary fuel burning heating system.

The electric heat pump lets its owners live better in many ways. It gives them more free time, because an electric pump reduces household cleaning chores... eliminates furnace tending and fuel buying. It saves money, too, by cutting the cost and frequency of redecorating.

Most important of all, an electric heat pump guards the family's health. Heating or cooling, it constantly supplies fresh, clean, filtered air... distributed quietly and evenly to every corner of the house.

You can save money and live better with an electric heat pump! Let us tell you about the many advantages of this truly modern way to heat and cool your home.

ACP Not To Drop
Practices In 1958

The 1958 Agriculture Conservation Program will remain substantially the same as this year, the Agriculture Department has announced after Congress beat down earlier threats of eliminating several widely-used conservation practices.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson had tried to eliminate some ACP practices in a bill for next year.

Kentucky's share of the national ACP program amounts to an estimated $7 million which is available to farmers on a cost-sharing basis for such conservation practices as: top-dressing with lime, seeding of short-term and rotation cover, conservation draining and ditching, building livestock ponds, providing scrub and brush control, tree planting, contour and strip cropping, construction of sod waterways and check dams, pasture and range management, terracing, and controlling of wind erosion.

In 1955, more than 51,000 farms in Kentucky representing 38 percent of the State's farm land, participated in the ACP program.

State CC Plans
Workshops On
New Industries

A series of meetings designed for Kentuckians, who have a real interest in obtaining new industry for their communities has been scheduled by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

Under the direction of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Area Development Council five workshops are planned during the week of August 26-30, according to E. R. Mitchell, Covington, president of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

The chairman of the Area Development Council for the State Chamber, Floyd Fairman, Lexington, noted that workshops will be made up of a series of three panels dealing with the major projects that local communities should include for a well-rounded industrial development program.

"We feel," Fairman added, "that by bringing these workshops in easy reach of all Kentucky communities the effect will be noticeable in improving Kentucky's industrial standing among the 48 states. No statewide industrial development program can be complete without local cooperation from throughout the state."

The meeting for this area is at the Paintsville Country Club, August 30. All meetings will commence at 10 a.m., C. D. S. T., Fairman said.

Participating as discussion leaders of the meetings are industrial representatives of Kentucky firms and organizations working primarily in the industrial development field. These are: Department of Economic Development, L & N Railroad, Hazard Coal Operators Association, Texas Gas Transmission Corporation, Louisville Gas & Electric Company, Kentucky Utilities Company, Union Light, Heat & Power Company, Thomas Industries, Inc., Kentucky Power Company, Western Kentucky Gas Company, Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, and the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce.

Watch Stings Of Wasps, Honeybees

Stings of the honeybee and wasp may feel alike, but they are actually different and should be treated differently, say U. S. Department of Agriculture research entomologists.

The honeybee—and it's a "she" if it stings—leaves the stinger in her victim. When she stings she dies, because leaving the stinger tears away part of her body. For this reason the honeybee usually stings only in defense of her colony.

In contrast, females of the wasp, hornet and yellow jacket can sting again and again. They use their stingers as defensive weapons to force the poison fluid into the flesh. They too, will sting if their homes are disturbed and also if caught inside a car or up a sleeve. Both bees and wasps sting if they are frightened or confused.

If stung by a honeybee, remove the stinger immediately to keep much of the poison from entering the flesh. It is important to scrape out the stinger—there's nothing better than a sharp fingernail never pull it out. If the stinger is pulled out, the fingers press the poison fluid attached to the stinger's base and this forces the poison into the skin—as a hypodermic needle would.

Cold applications will relieve the swelling that may result if stung by a wasp, hornet, yellow jacket, bumblebee or honeybee. Then apply a paste made of water and bicarbonate of soda as recommended by the Public Health Service of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. If a stung many times, or if the reaction is severe, see a doctor promptly.

4-H Programs Prepare
Youth For Citizenship

The 4-H Leadership and Achievement programs are rated high in helping teen-age boys and girls become solid citizens of the future. National recognition awards 14 members who have done a superior job in carrying out objectives of the programs. The 1957 champions will be announced next December during the national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Besides high honors, the national winners will each receive $400 college scholarships; 12 in achievement and two in leadership. In addition the two top achievement winners will be presented with a beautiful gift of silverware from the President of the United States. The two national leadership winners will receive silver trophies from Edward Foss Wilson, formerly of Chicago and now Assistant Secretary, U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Early this fall, awards also will be made to county and state winners. Both programs are arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work and conducted by the Extension Service.

Ford Motor Company supports the achievement program, providing the national, state and county, while the state winner will receive an expense-paid trip to the Chicago Congress. The program encourages club members to get high goals for themselves and to "make the best better" in whatever they undertake.

Mr. Wilson has supported the leadership program for 20 consecutive years. In addition to the national awards, he provides gold-filled medals of honor for the outstanding boy and girl in each county, pen and pencil sets for the two who are selected as state winners. Expense-paid trips to the Chicago Club Congress will be given to four boys and four girls representing the four Extension sections.

YOUR HEART IS A POWERHOUSE

If you think of your heart as a delicate organ easily strained by over-activity, you're wrong! A healthy heart is the toughest, strongest muscle in the body. It is the organ that would be likely to live longest if given chance to use its reserve powers.

Actually, the heart is more efficient than any machine man has been able to make and is virtually impossible to strain. The heart produces enough energy in a lifetime to lift the huge battleship Missouri 14 feet out of the water if it were applied all at once.

Here are some other fascinating facts about the human heart: The heart contracts when its owner is resting, about 70 times a minute, or two and a half billion times in a 70-year life. Every day the heart pumps nine to 10 tons of blood. With each beat one-hundredth part of the total blood in the body is pushed out through a main artery called the aorta. Later, this blood is forced through miles of blood vessels.

Tests have proved that much of the travel time is brief. For instance, if ether is injected in a vein in the arm, it is in the heart in about six seconds. This is half of a round trip for the arm blood.

To check the time for a round trip, saeccharine, a sweet so powerful that a pinhead-size piece sweetens a cup of coffee, is secreted into an arm vein. In just 12 seconds the sweet taste reaches the tongue. It then has passed into the heart on its way to the lungs, and after leaving the lungs, gone back through the heart to be pumped into the body and thence to the tongue.

The heart muscle rests, relaxed, more than half the time. Provided, that is, its owner gives the little powerhouse a fair chance. A heart rests nearly 40 years out of a lifetime of 70 years. This is an amazing reserve of strength. This is the magic which a physician knows how to use in treating diseased hearts.

But the person primarily responsible for your heart is you—not your physician. You, you, you! It will take care of you.

If you would like to know more about your heart, write Kentucky Heart Association, 401 Speed Building, Louisville 2, for a free copy of the pamphlet, "Don't Worry About Your Heart."

HOW'D YOU LIKE TO LIVE TO BE 81 AND NEVER BE ILL? (Rowan County News)

Just about everybody in these parts—Rowan, Morgan, Elliott and Carter counties—knows Watt Pritchard of Morehead.

Probably you're one of his thousands of friends without really realizing what a remarkable fellow he is.

Watt Pritchard readily admits to being 81 years of age. He has never been sick a day in his life. Never had a doctor. Never missed a good night's sleep. And never failed to partake of three hearty meals a day.

Mr. Pritchard has dealt extensively all his life in the lumber, coal and mercantile business. He knows our people and their ancestors perhaps better than any citizen.

He gives no real secret for his health and happiness except to live cleanly, be out of doors a lot, and love your fellow man.

Watt Pritchard today looks as young as many men 50 years old and a darn sight healthier and more active than most of us middle-aged, modern, fast-paced livers.

When we were picking an individual who will live happily to be over 100 years old we'd say Watt Pritchard.

SAFETY RULES FOR HUNTERS

A chronic hunter gets a certain urge and probably a license late every summer or early in the fall to tote a gun through the woods and pastures and prove what a good shot he is. Squirrel season begins this year on August 15, and quail and small game annual season follows shortly after.

Wives do not always greet these seasons with as much enthusiasm as do the menfolk, for they may be asked to prepare some unfamiliar and doubtful meat dishes. Of even greater concern to them is the question of whether or not they are to be wives or widows by the time hunting season is over.

Far too many hunters in their eagerness to bag the limit forget the safety rules and bag other hunters or themselves. Some over anxious and under-intelligent one take aim at anything that moves in the brush without waiting to see if it's wearing feathers, fur, or a sport jacket.

If there were a Society for the Prevention of Widows and Orphans of Careless Hunters, it would undoubtedly adopt as by-laws the ten commandments of first-class safety set forth by the National Rifle Association. These ten safety rules should be memorized by all hunters.

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule of gun safety.

2. Carry only empty guns. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.

3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.

4. Always carry your gun so you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble.

5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.

6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.

7. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.

8. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.

9. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

OBITUARY

ELLIOTT

Curtis Elliott was born at Redwine, Kentucky, November 14, 1911 son of the late Elie Elliott and Paula Dehart.

He was called away shortly after midnight at his home here on July 15, 1957 after an hour after suffering a coronary attack. Curtis attended elementary school at Straight Creek and graduated from high school at Breckenridge Training School at Morehead. He later attended college at Morehead State and Kentucky Wesleyan. He was a teacher in this county for several years. He also worked for Mansfield Tire in Mansfield, Ohio.

He was a member of the Dayton Rubber in Dayton, Ohio. In 1947 he obtained a franchise and became associated with Southern States Cooperative as co-owner and manager of Morgan Farmers Store, the position in which he remained until his death. Southwestern States Cooperative District Manager Tommy Combs presented Mrs. Elliott with the ten year pin which Curtis would have received at the Southern States annual meeting to have been held here August 2.

On June 2, 1933 Curtis was married to Eva Black of West Liberty. Their home was blessed with five lovely children—Barletta Jo Sheets of West Liberty; Pte. Denzil Royce Elliott, stationed at Camp Roberts, California; Robert Scott, Emil Lawrence (Larry) and Morris Lane at home. He also leaves his mother, Mrs. Elie Elliott of West Liberty; three sisters, Mrs. Clinton Whit of Redwine, Mrs. James E. Forsythe and Mrs. M. A. Ison of Dayton, Ohio, and several relatives, friends and business associates who loved him dearly.

The profuse floral offerings, cards, letters, and other expressions of sympathy betokened the esteem and respect of many.

Curtis was converted at an early age in a revival at Straight Creek and, although he never took membership in any church, he liked to attend all churches and believed one should support all denominations. Curtis gave assurance at the final hour of his profound trust in the Almighty.

Curtis was a member of the Masonic Lodge 311 F. and A. M. He served at different times as secretary, junior warden, senior deacon and master. At the time of his death, he was general insurance agent for Southern Kentucky Farm Bureau and Farm Bureau Life. He was also county chairman of the Morgan County Republican Executive Committee.

The funeral was conducted at the Potter Funeral Chapel Sunday afternoon at one o'clock with Rev. Bruce Hullett, Rev. J. K. Barrineau, Rev. James Norvich, and Rev. Joe Nevius officiating. Interment was made in the McClain cemetery at Lenox, Kentucky with Potter Funeral Home in charge. Full Masonic rites were conducted at the graveside and prayer was offered by Rev. James Deborde.

First cattle show in the West was held at Sandersville, July, 1815.

Cynthia in Harrison county was named for Cynthia and Anna, two daughters of the town's first settler, Robert Harrison.

HENRY WHEELER DIES IN HOSPITAL FRIDAY AT AGE 87

(Photo of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler made last April 27 when he observed his 87th birthday.)

Henry W. Wheeler, 87, retired merchant and postmaster at Isonville and vice president of the Peoples Bank in Sandy Hook, died last Friday in Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington.

Mr. Wheeler was one of Elliott county's best known and most respected citizens. His funeral was attended by a large assemblage Monday at the Isonville school. Hepburn Masonic Lodge conducted the Masonic ritual at the grave.

The following obituary of this worthy citizen was read at the funeral—

Henry Washington Wheeler, son of the late James Wheeler and Mahala Sparks Wheeler, was born in Johnson County, Ky., April 27, 1870, and departed this life at Central Baptist Hospital, Lexington, Ky., August 9, 1957, at the age of 87 years, 3 months and 13 days.

He was married to Miss Cora Lou McGuire of Johnson County on October 30, 1890. To this union were born three children: Ernest Taylor Wheeler who preceded his father in death by many years, Claude W. Wheeler of Isonville, Ky., and Mrs. Alvia Mahala Ison of Tempe, Arizona, who survive. His wife, Mrs. L. Wheeler, departed this life February 8, 1901.

On August 11, 1903, Mr. Wheeler was united in marriage to Miss Susie Butler who with the following children survive: Mrs. Victoria Ison of Sandy Hook, John S. Wheeler, Isaac W. Wheeler, Mr. Irene Blair, all of Isonville, Ky. A son, Garland G. Wheeler, died in infancy. He is further survived by two sisters, Mrs. Amanda Rose of Dobbin, Mrs. Stella Strout of Ironton, O., and two brothers, Garfield Wheeler of Columbus, Ohio, and Elva Wheeler of Columbus, Indiana. Also surviving are 27 grandchildren and 25 great grandchildren and many other relatives.

Mr. Wheeler was a merchant for many years, both at Backbone and Isonville. He also was a postmaster for many years—about 15 years at Backbone and about 20 years at Isonville. He was a stockholder in Peoples Bank at Sandy Hook from the time it was chartered until his death, having served as its vice president from its beginning. He was a member of Willard Masonic Lodge.

He was a good husband and father and an asset to the community in which he lived. Many children would have gone hungry during the years of the depression, had it not been for him
